The ladies of the auxiliary to Steele cemetery association had charge of the opening of the soda fountain at the King pharmacy Saturday. The day's business well rewarded the ladies.

The Falls City ball team crossed bats with a team from St. Joseph Sunday and the home boys won the game by a score of 6 to 4. It was an exciting game and a good exhibition of scientific ball playing.

The St. Louis special on the Missouri Pacific is carrying a greater number of people every day and it will soon be crowded on every trip. It is doubtful if the train will be taken off after the exposition.

A very fine Chickering piano arrived at the Burlington depot the other day, the instrument being consigned to Quimby Beaver who lives southeast of town. Owing to the condition of the bottom roads it will be some time before the piano can be hauled to its destination.

A Falls city man entertained a friend from a neighboring town and last Sunday took him for a walk over the city. The strangers delight continued to grow until they struck the sidewalk on South Merton street. Then the stranger turned to his host and asked how soon he could get a train out of town and no one could blame him, either.

The Tribune takes great pleasure in recommending its advertisers to strangers who are looking for a place to trade. The Tribune will accept advertising from no man whose standing in the community is not guaranteed.

Hon. E. A. Tucker, republican candidate for state senator has been in the city this week attending district court. Judge Tucker's candidacy is proving more popular every day and his election is conceded by practically everybody.

We visited a neighboring town Tuesday and the first person we met asked us when the fraternal picnic will be held. The people of the county have come to look forward to this picnic as one of the big events of the year.

Jack O'Keefe, Judge Babcock's reporter, is probably the most skilled man at this work in the state. The manner in which he executes sixteenth chromatic runs on the typewriter is certainly a caution.

Sixteen members of Elizabeth Rebekah lodge went to Hiawatha Monday to visit the lodge at that place and to exemplify the floor work. The party was chaperoned by Al. Burchard.

Maude Graham left yesterday for St. Louis where she will visit at the home of her brother, Cecil, and attend the exposition.

Mollie Moran, whose dangerous illness was reported last week is better and hopes are entertained for her recovery.

There is consolation in the fact that unless the unexpected happens, the next circus will have an elephant.

Sydney Lapp is working for W. E. Haner this week, Grace Haner being confined to her home by illness.

We are still making special low prices on lard and cured meats of all kinds.—Coupe & Thornton.

It is a needless expenditure of money to pay more than a dollar a year for a county paper.

Circus Day.

Friday was circus day, Campbell Bros. shows exhibiting here. There was a good crowd in town and they stood as such crowds always do lined up along the street waiting for the great, grand, glittering, glorious, gorgeous, gaudy, gigantic, etc., parade, which was several hours late in putting in an appearance. The parade did not amount to much but the show itself was very good and at both performances the tent was well filled. The ice cold lemonade man and the red hot peanut man both did a good business, the children saw the balloons and cried for them and got them and the usual number of concert tickets were sold. The elephant had died a fiery death at Pawnee City some days before, and he was sadly missed, for circus day without an elephant, always leaves something to be desired.

A Highway Robber.

John Shulenberg, a young man who works for Joe Coupe northeast of town, was held up and robbed near the corner of Lane and Second streets Friday evening. Shulenberg had attended the circus and was on his way home. A stranger followed him from the court house and when near the above mentioned corner overtook him. As he passed he wheeled suddenly and pointing a revolver at Shulenberg, ordered him to throw up his hands. The order was promptly complied with and the robber went through his pockets and took a purse containing about $3.75 but in his hurry overlooked a gold watch. The robber then ordered his victim to proceed on his way a course of action which suited him exactly, and the robber himself disappeared on the run. No trace of him has been found and it is not known whether the highwayman was a follower of the circus or whether the job was done by local talent.

Richardson County Stockmen.

Kansas City, May 11,—Special to The Tribune:

Chester Powers of Humboldt, Neb., who with his brothers have been feeding a string of 12,000 head of lambs and sheep this winter, was among the late arrivals at the yards yesterday with a shipment consisting of a carload of shorn lambs and a carload of mixed sheep. "Sheep have passed through the winter in fine shape," remarked Mr. Powers, "and feeding was not attended by any bad results, as we had no stormy weather. But most of the fed sheep have been shipped out, and the few that were back will be marketed within a few weeks."

The Hon. John Lichty of Falls City, Neb., one of Richardson county's foremost feeders and representative of that county in the state legislature, had on today's market two loads of good handy-weight steers, averaging 1,310 lbs., which brought $4.80, the top of the market.

Guy Harris, a prominent young stockman of Stella, Neb., had a bunch of butcher stuff on today's market. Mr. Harris is associated with his father and together they have several hundred head of cattle, including 100 head of steers on feed. The steers they expect to market shortly. Mr. Harris says the outlook for wheat in Richardson county is not flattering. The fly has damaged the crop considerably. The acreage of corn this year he says will be large.
